Questions Fly At Trial Of Ex-Gov. Fine

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The late president of the Newport Excavating Co. frequently took an active part in directing improvements on the farm of former Gov. John S. Fine, a government witness said Tuesday.

The testimony was by Adam Stefanowicz of Harveys Lake. The defense has contended that the late Lawrence Bisconti had a picnic grove and a fish pond built on Fine's farm to entertain Newport's customers.

Other Equipment
Stefanowicz, onetime manager of the Fine farm at Loyallville, Luzerne County, said under cross examination that Bisconti often inspected the work in progress and ordered changes.

Fine, 69, and his former brother-in-law, Donald P. Morgan, 50, of Malvern are being tried for the alleged evasion of $45,554 of Fine's income taxes for 1955-1956-1957. The government claims the taxes are due on $70,149 worth of services and improvements at the Fine farm allegedly paid for by Newport, a coal firm in which Fine once had a one-third interest.

Stefanowicz also testified that a $3,088 tractor was purchased and paid for by Newport to aid in clearing woods for the picnic grove. He added that the tractor was still at the farm when he left its employ in 1951.

Temperatures of opposing attorneys became edgy as temperatures in the courtroom matched the rapid rise of the thermometer outdoors. A defense attorney accused witness Paul D. Small of Wyoming, a tractor salesman, of evading questions and attempting to please the government in his answers.

Small had testified he sold the tractor to the Fine farm in 1955 on an order given by Stefanowicz. Defense attorney Arthur A. Maguire showed Small a statement the witness had given to revenue agents in October, 1959, in which Small had said the tractor was ordered "by either Fine, Morgan or Stefanowicz."

Terrorists Kill 50 More In Algeria

ALGIERS (AP) — Secret Army Organization killers launched a new wave of terror through this tortured city Tuesday in bloody reprisals against Moslems.

Authorities said more than 50 persons were killed and 22 wounded. Most of the victims were Moslems, including four women. Four Europeans also died in the blast of Secret army guns.

The secret army apparently was bent on vengeance for the Algerian nationalist commando attacks Monday. Goaded by earlier secret army attacks on Moslems, the Nationalists slew 17 Europeans and wounded 78.

Seek Reprisals
One aim of the secret army in its campaign to block Algerian independence is to provoke the Moslem population into reprisals that might rupture the cease-fire between France and the Algerian Nationalists.

The secret army was out in force after daybreak, launching about 50 attacks in Algiers alone. Many of the Moslems were men, shot in the back as they walked to work. Five of the dead were veiled Moslem women.

Scranton, Dilworth Easy Victors In Governor Bid

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Staunchly backed by their respective party organizations, Richardson Dilworth, Democrat, and William Scranton, Republican, piled up tremendous leads in their bids for the gubernatorial nominations as returns trickled in from Tuesday's primary election.

Dilworth, who resigned last February as mayor of Philadelphia to seek his second nomination as Democratic candidate for governor, appeared in a virtual "no contest" with two token opponents.

Scranton, the scion of a wealthy Pennsylvania family, was doing almost as well against his only opponent, J. Collins McSparran, master of the State Grange, 44-year-old first-term Congressman, backed by former President Eisenhower, appeared headed for his second political victory in as many tries.

Returns from 2,231 of the state's 9,157 precincts gave:

Democrats:
Dilworth 142,010
Schmitt 19,223
Johnston 17,301
Republicans:
Scranton 214,419
McSparran 40,540

Dilworth's opposition was provided by 50-year-old Charles Schmitt of Girard, and Harvey F. Johnston, 56-year-old McKees Rocks' realtor. The former mayor, an ex-Marine and an old pro politician wasn't expected to receive much opposition and the early returns indicated the outlook was correct.

While Scranton predicted he'd win by 350,000 votes and organization leaders said he was conservative, there was some thought that McSparran might poll a respectable vote. The Grange master, a conservative conducted a vigorous primary campaign, charging Scranton was the choice of the bosses. McSparran's father running as a Democrat 40 years ago was defeated for governor and later served as state agriculture secretary.

Despite beautiful summery weather there was a very light voter turnout. The campaigns lacked major issues and were almost devoid of real competition. Dilworth and Scranton toured the state, but apparently were just warming up for this fall's bitter battle.

Both Dilworth and Scranton were slated by their respective organizations after intraparty wrangling. Dilworth was fought by U. S. Rep. Bill Green, the powerful chairman of the Philadelphia Democratic city committee, who said the former mayor couldn't win. Later, Green recanted, and pledged Dilworth his support.

On the Republican side, Judge Robert Woodside of the State Superior Court sought the nomination, but was opposed vigorously by U. S. Sen. Hugh Scott, who said he would run for the gubernatorial nomination to stop Woodside. A series of meetings among Republican leaders finally brought agreement on Scranton, who said he would rather try for a second term in Congress, but agreed to step in to bring about party harmony.

In the early primary balloting, both Dilworth and Scranton received strong support in Lackawanna county, Scranton's home area. The Democrat polled 21,013, and the Republican 21,383. In Philadelphia where scandal touched his administration just before he resigned to campaign for governor, Dilworth polled 25,689 votes in 242 of the city's precincts. Scranton polled 70,864 in 242 of 1,623 precincts. No pickup.

'Sweet Smell' From Poconos

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — A large area of central and eastern Pennsylvania was covered by dark clouds and a sweet smell Tuesday. They were accompanied by vivid lightning in some sections. A thundershower was reported in the Pocono Mountain area and weathermen expressed the opinion the smell drifted south from wind-blown pollen.

Freeman Fires Asst. Secy. In Estes Gift-Giving Charge

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman fired former Asst. Secretary of Agriculture James T. Ralph Tuesday night in connection with gift-giving by indicted Texas financier Billie Sol Estes.

Ralph, who had been undergoing training for a post as agricultural attaché to the Philippines, is the third department official either to be fired or to resign in connection with the Estes case.

The others were Emery E. Jacobs, deputy administrator of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, who resigned, and William E. Morris, who was an assistant to Ralph.

Asst. Secretary of Labor Jerry R. Holleman also has resigned in the case, saying he accepted a $1,000 gift from Estes to help meet Washington living expenses.

Yetter, Snyder Win Assembly Bids; Price Heads Democrats

Price Takes Early Lead; Wins By 159

DAVID A. Price of Barrett Township defeated two other candidates yesterday to win the chairmanship of the Monroe County Democratic Committee.

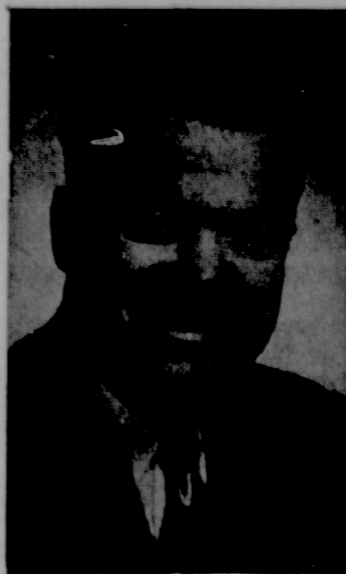

Price received 2,163 votes to 2,004 for Sheriff Jacob F. Altomose of Stroudsburg and 1,194 for Stuart F. Pipher of Tannersville on the basis of unofficial figures from the county's 35 precincts.

Price's margin of victory was represented by the vote he polled in his home township where he received 315 votes to 119 for Pipher and 74 for Altomose.

Altomose led on the basis of the first returns received by The Daily Record with Price second, and Pipher third. But with approximately half the precincts reporting, Price took the lead and never lost it again.

Pipher was never really in the running, trailing at times by as much as 600 votes.

Snyder Edges Heller; Yetter Swamps Butz

GERALD A. Snyder of Stroud Township will face Van D. Yetter, Jr., Smithfield Township, for Monroe County representative in the General Assembly in November on the basis of unofficial returns from yesterday's primary election.

Snyder edged Clifford F. Heller of Stroudsburg, 1,737 to 1,621, to win the Republican nomination. Yetter, currently serving his second term as representative from the county, easily defeated Floyd Butz of East Stroudsburg for the Democratic nomination, 3,300 to 1,082.

Snyder at one point trailed, Heller by more than 100 votes as the figures streamed into the office of The Daily Record. But, later in the evening, the tide began to swing the other way.

Yetter, on the other hand, was never a doubtful figure. The first precinct reporting gave him an almost 60-vote edge and he was never in jeopardy thereafter. Snyder is a former Monroe County Republican Chairman. Heller has been active as a director of the Keystone Shortway Assn. from this area.

Turnout Light At Polls

APPROXIMATELY 3,700 voters went to the polls in Monroe County during the 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. period. Thundershowers in the late afternoon hampered the trek to the polling places.

The turnout of registered voters was less than half. Monroe County commissioners announced that there were 19,421 registered voters eligible to cast a vote in the Primary Election.

Yesterday 5,342 Democrats voted, while only 3,358 Republicans went to the polls.

Registered Democrats are 11,450 and 7,720 Republicans are eligible to vote.

Walter Polls 4,410 Votes

FRANCIS E. Walter, Democratic candidate for representative in Congress for the 15th District, polled an unofficial vote in Monroe County of 4,410. His Republican opponent, Woodrow Horn, polled 2,372.

Republican candidate for Senator in the General Assembly, 14th district, William Z. Scott, polled an unofficial vote of 2,664 in Monroe County. His Democratic opponent polled an official 2,609.

Eshback Defeats Metz In Pike

J. RUSSELL Eshback, Lehman Twp., incumbent Pike County Representative in the General Assembly, easily defeated August Metz, Jr., in yesterday's primary. The vote was Eshback 1218, Metz 910, with one district still to be reported. The outcome was certain, however.

The assembly contest was the only countywide contest on the Pike ballot.

Metz had served several terms as Representative before he was ousted by Eshback, and the battle waged was a bitter one.

Kennedy Orders Landing Of 1800 Marines In Thailand

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy ordered 1,800 U.S. Marines into Thailand at dawn Thursday (5 p. m. EST Wednesday) in a 5,000-troop buildup of U.S. military strength there aimed at preventing the Communists from swallowing up neighboring Laos.

An advance contingent of Marine A4D and Air Force F100 jet attack planes was dispatched from the Philippines to Thailand Tuesday. The Pentagon said it had no word as to whether they actually arrived on schedule.

Khrushchev Concurs
Shortly after Kennedy acted, with the statement that the Red threat to Thailand is of grave concern to the United States, Soviet Premier Khrushchev sent word that the Soviet Union agrees on the necessity for a cease-fire and a peaceful political settlement in Laos.

The U.S.-Soviet accord was reached at an afternoon meeting between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin.

This led some U.S. strategists to believe that the heart of the Laos crisis is on the way to solution, that the big powers will not be drawn more directly into the conflict, and that American troops will be able to leave Thailand eventually without entering Laos or firing a shot.

But some potentially troublesome gaps in the U.S.-Soviet accord remained. Both sides were unclear as to whether a cease-fire, allowing the rival Laotian factions to negotiate for a nationwide government, meant withdrawal of Red rebel forces to the lines they held before starting on their northwest Laos offensive last week. The United States had sought a withdrawal.

Dobrynin said after a 35-minute meeting with Rusk that it is necessary to put into effect last June's Kennedy-Khrushchev agreement in Vienna on the importance of a cease-fire and forming a neutral independent Laos government.

State Department press officer Lincoln White said, "Both sides emphasized the necessity for the maintenance of a cease-fire."

Washington optimism stemmed too from reports that the Reds have ceased fighting in Laos and that the feuding chiefs at last are on their way to the negotiating table.

These developments highlighted a day of feverish activity starting with a special early morning Kennedy briefing of congressional leaders of both parties.

House GOP Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana said on leaving the White House there were no commitments asked and none given at the closed session at which Kennedy told of the placing of U.S. forces on combat assignment in Asia for the first time since the Korean War.

Outlining Orders
Kennedy outlined his orders in a White House statement issued at noon as Marines from the U.S. 7th Fleet stood by outside Bangkok and Premier Sarit Thanarat announced his country has invited American forces to land because of the Red threat.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said the 1,000-man Army battle group now in Thailand, a U.S. ally, will be augmented by these units under command of Gen. Paul D. Harkins, top U.S. military adviser in South Viet Nam.

1. An 1,800-man 7th Fleet Marine battalion with its own tactical air units.

2. Some 1,200 additional Army forces from the Pacific area.

3. Tactical units from the Pacific Air Force to provide cover for the Army ground troops.

DeGaulle Says France Will Remain Aloof In Berlin Deal

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle made it clear Tuesday France will stay aloof from U.S.-British contacts with the Soviet Union over Berlin and disarmament.

The Big Four occupation statute on Berlin should remain inviolate, he told 500 newsmen at his first news conference since last September.

"We think that in today's international situation — whose elements are tension, threats and cold war — it is vain to seek to settle the German problem in a satisfying way," he said. "That would be like trying to square the circle."

Balance Precarious

Calling the current balance between East and West precarious, De Gaulle said this is no time to try to change established facts. Soviet policy, he claimed, aims at getting the West to agree in the end to starting a withdrawal. "After that," he said, "the Soviets will pass to the next stage which would be easier than the first

Searchlight Looks Like Space Ship To Motorists

By Peggy Bancroft
Record Correspondent

IT LOOKED like a space ship, but it couldn't be. Why would a space ship land beside Route 191 between Buck Hill Falls and Newfoundland, unless word of the wonderful Poconos has reached outer space?

The craft — or whatever it was — was parked (obviously hurriedly) by the roadside. There was no sign of activity in, or around it. It was perhaps six feet high, rounded, and was partly of glass, for glass was strewn about its base. It was wired, but the wires were askew.

Passersby gave it curious glances and then did a double take. A space ship in the Poconos? Or what?

For several hours no one stopped to investigate. It could have been Comrade Gargarin, spying out resort secrets to take back to Russia. It could have been an astronaut, come to view vacationland.

Didn't Pause

A Volkswagen sped past. The craft was much the larger, so the VW didn't pause. Finally, someone stopped. Others gathered. The object featured a painted clown on one side. Someone volunteered information that "it" had passed through South Sterling aboard a trailer earlier in the day.

It was decided that the thing was a circus searchlight, which had fallen during transport and rolled to the side of the highway. It wasn't a space ship.

Or was it?

Summer Seminar At ESSC

READING, Language Arts and School and Community Relations are the areas featured at this summer's seminar workshop for elementary in-service teachers at the East Stroudsburg State College, July 9 to July 27.

The "College on the Hill" gives three semester hours of credit in elementary education for this workshop, which may be used in four ways.

First, it may be a free elective in the elementary curriculum. Second, it may be used as a refresher course for graduates who wish to improve themselves professionally. Third, it may be used by secondary education graduates toward accreditation in the elementary education field. Fourth, it may be used as credit for making an elementary certificate permanent.

All work is scheduled in the morning, so that the afternoons and evenings are free for recreation in the mountain country-side.

For Pennsylvania residents the contingent fee is $37.50; other states, $45.

Registration is July 9 at 8:30 a.m. Work begins at 10 a.m. the same day. Applications should be made to Dr. John R. Wildrick, Workshop Coordinator, East Stroudsburg State College, East Stroudsburg, Pa.

Greentown Man Now Surveyor

GREENTOWN — Harry Schoenagel, son of Mrs. Fred Schoenagel, Greentown, and the late Mr. Schoenagel, who applied for registration as a surveyor in January, 1962, has received notification of his registration.

Mr. Schoenagel is a graduate of Greene-Dreher High School, Newfoundland, now Southern Wayne Joint School. He was graduated from Pennsylvania State University as a civil engineer, and spent three years in the U.S. Navy as engineering officer and navigator aboard a destroyer. He returned home in January, 1961, and recently took over his late father's business in Greentown. His father had been a surveyor in the Greentown area for 34 years prior to his death in 1961.

The local man also succeeded his father as a member of the Greene Township School Board and the Wallenpaupack Area Joint School Board.

Villanova Dean To Give ESSC Baccalaureate Talk

HAROLD Gill Reuschlein, dean of the law school at Villanova University, will deliver the baccalaureate address to the graduating class of the East Stroudsburg State College, Sunday at 3 p.m. His topic is, "To Whom Much Is Given."

Dean Reuschlein, a native of Wisconsin, is a member of the Bar of Wisconsin, of Pennsylvania, and in 1944 was admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of the United States.

He is a graduate of the University of Iowa and is a recipient of advanced degrees from Yale and Cornell.

His appointment as dean of the Villanova law school was made in 1953; before that he taught at Yale University, New York University, Georgetown University, University of Notre Dame, Syracuse University and the University of Pittsburgh.

During World War II Dean Reuschlein served as Colonel, Judge Advocate General's Dept., and Chief Officer of Legislative Services, Hqs., Army Air Forces.

Among his published works are: "The Schools of Corporate Reform," "Jurisprudence: Its American Prophets," and "Cases And Materials On Unincorporated Business."

Chest X-Ray Survey At Depot 3 Days

A CHEST X-ray survey for civilian employees of the Tobyhanna Signal Corps Depot will be held today, tomorrow and Friday.

The program is sponsored by the Monroe County Medical Society and will be conducted by the Bureau of Tuberculosis Control, State Dept. of Health, and the Monroe County Tuberculosis and Health Society.

Arrangements for the survey, which will be free of charge, are under the direction of the depot's Civilian Welfare Council, of which Michael Albano is president.

The films will be read locally by Dr. Paul Shiffer and Dr. Horace Butler, radiologists at Monroe County General Hospital and when a re-X-ray is advised, it will be given by the tuberculosis society in the county of residence of the person affected.

The X-ray unit will be at the depot from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and 1 to 4 p.m. today and tomorrow. On Friday, it will be at the depot from 9 to 11:30 and at the Wherry Housing project from 1 to 4 p.m.

THREE Appointments were made to the operating committee of Blue Mountain District of the Delaware Valley Area Council, Boy Scouts of America at a meeting at Salem Church, Wind Gap. George Markovci, made the appointments.

Alego Bartolacci, Bangor, was appointed camping and activities chairman; Norman T. Searfoss, Nazareth, leadership training chairman; and Frederick Jones, Bangor, advancement chairman.

Antonio Curcio, West Bangor, recently retired as camping and activities chairman, was elected to vice chairman of the district.

The Catholic Committee on Scouting will hold Holy Hour and Religious Awards presentations, Sunday, June 3 at 3 p.m. in Easton.

A progress report was given on the Scouting in Action Fair to be held May 24, 25 and 26 at Camp Weygadt. Tickets are available from all scouts in the council.

Basin Unit To Convene In Philly

THE Delaware River Basin Commission will meet Wednesday, May 23, in room 496, Philadelphia City Hall.

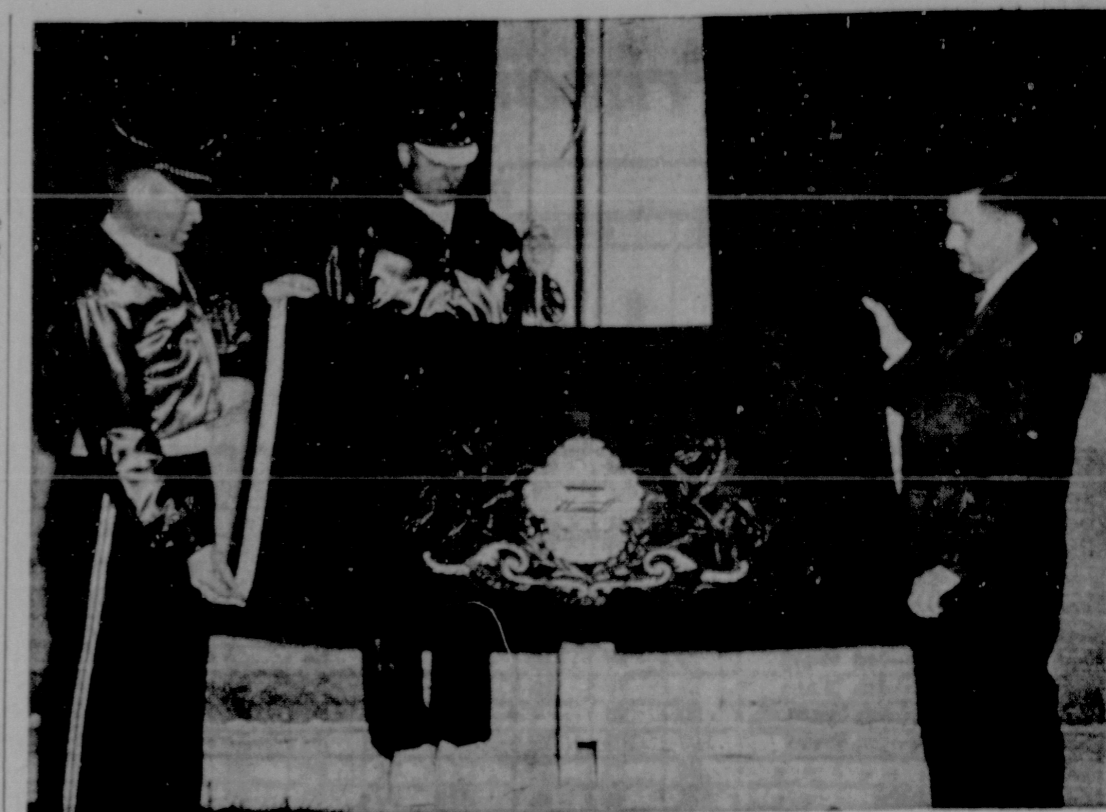

During the meeting, the executive director, general counsel and one or more advisors will be sworn in and the application of the Philadelphia Water Department's application to enlarge the Northeast Sewage Treatment Works will be considered.

This meeting is open to the public.

Unauthorized Solicitations

MRS. Ruth E. Brown, president of the Monroe County Crippled Children's Assn., yesterday denied that anyone has been authorized to solicit magazine subscriptions in the name of the association.

Mrs. Brown said she understood that such solicitations are being made. She added that, to the best of her knowledge, those doing the soliciting also have no connection with the Pennsylvania Society for Crippled Children.

Shot Kills Child

OXFORD, Pa. (AP)—Larry D. Edwards, 4, of Oxford R. D. 1, died Tuesday of an accidental gunshot wound. Police quoted the boy's mother as saying another son, Barry, 8, had been handling a .22 calibre rifle in their home. Larry was shot in the head Monday.

Ex-School Janitor Is Found Innocent

A MONROE County Court jury yesterday found Wilbur Batchler, 58, former janitor at Chestnut Hill Township Elementary School, innocent on charges of indecent assault.

The verdict was returned before Judge Edward G. Biester, president judge of the Seventh Judicial District, Montgomery County, who is presiding specially here with Judge Fred W. Davis.

Judge Biester, in releasing Batchler, told the defendant that he found no argument with the jury's verdict. However, the jurist

Stroud Twp. 'Watch Dogs' Oppose Tax

THE Stroud Township "Watch Dog Committee" went on record as objecting to the proposed 30 percent tax increase for the fiscal year, 1962-73 as presented by the Stroud Union School Board.

S. Jerome Rubin, chairman said, "The board has not practiced economy in the expenditure of its funds."

He said the board is operating on a deficit of $72,000 for this year and its only solution has been to propose the tax increase.

Members of the committee have expressed the opinion that with diligent control of expenditures, such a large tax hike would not be necessary to meet the expense of the coming year.

Rubin said the committee advocates a revamping of the system of handling and expending the monies available to the board so that expenses can be met within reason by the present budget.

Citizens and property owners were urged by the committee to attend the school board meeting to be held at Stroud Union High School Wednesday, May 16, at 8 p.m.

Accused Bank Robber Faces Arraignment

SCRANTON — U. S. marshals are enroute to Wilkes-Barre from Chicago with Joe Lee Sims of Osceola, Ark., one of five men accused of participating in the armed holdup of the Brodheads-ville branch of the Monroe Security Bank and Trust Co. last Oct. 20.

Sims will be lodged in Luzerne County Prison with Otis Zellner Jr. and Everett Williams Jr., Zeller and Williams pleaded guilty to participating in the holdup, which netted $8,638, at a recent arraignment.

Two other suspects in the case, Robert Hall Jr. and Vandy Hall, New Jersey brothers, entered pleas of innocence and are being held in Lackawanna County Jail.

The five men were employed as migrant workers on a farm near Brodheadsville around the time of the holdup. They were arrested at various points around the country early this year by FBI agents.

An arraignment for Sims will be scheduled in Scranton before Federal Judge Michael H. Sheridan who is presiding this week at Federal Court in Harrisburg.

Dog Attacks Cycling Boy In Honesdale

HONESDALE — Gary Roberts was in fair condition in Wayne County Memorial Hospital yesterday after 24 sutures were used to close multiple lacerations received when he was attacked by a large dog.

Gary, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Roberts, 315 Tracy St., was riding a bicycle near Freethy's Pond, accompanied by friends.

The dog, owned by Russell Compton, attacked the boy and bit him on the right leg and arm and chest until the other children chased him off.

Lt. Lawrence Noble, Honesdale Police, said the animal would be tied and watched for rabies during the regulation observation period.

Defiance From Detroit

When President Kennedy cracked down on the steel price increase, he made quite a point of his efforts to keep labor unions in line, too. True, he didn't explain why in the case of steel an increase of about 3½ percent in prices was somehow sinful while in the case of unions a similar increase was regarded as quite reasonable.

But many persons asked the question: would the President deal as severely with his friends in the labor movement as he did with the steel executives?

The answer is yet to be learned.

Walter Reuther, head of the United Automobile Workers, has served notice that he considers the President's formula of wage increases within the range of increases in the national productivity to be nonsense. This indicates what Reuther's position will be when UAW next negotiates with the auto firms.

Later, in his talk to the UAW, the President evaded specific comment on the Reuther challenge.

A government board has recommended an increase of about 10 cents an hour for the non-operating employees of the impecunious railroads, and the unions involved have insisted they want at least twice that. The President has not had to take whatever action he may think best, for the crisis has not been reached.

In New York, the Teamsters are calling for action to increase wages generally in the city, on the grounds that some wages are higher elsewhere. The city administration has been flirting with such ideas. This could lead to local wage increases all over the land on the theory that everyone must catch up with everyone else, and everyone must be the highest paid.

It is becoming evident that the President will find difficult to impose his kind of informal and personal wage and price controls on the American economy. He may have enjoyed some success against one industry, but the prices of manufactured goods have been remarkably stable in recent years anyway.

The swift increases have been in wages and the prices of service.

No weapons exist in the law to halt or check these rises, and it is now evident that the President's preferences will have little effect on the labor leaders.

Opinions Of Other Editors

The Newspapers Pay

We in the newspaper business view with considerable alarm the proposed further increase in second class postal rates, which affects newspapers and magazines. In addition to publishing without charge innumerable advertisements and notices for which any organization other than the Federal government would be charged, the newspapers perform in their mailing rooms functions that ordinarily would be taken care of by postal employees.

More than 83 percent of all daily newspapers delivered by mail in the U. S. are sorted and sacked according to destination by the newspaper itself. Another 24.9 percent of all copies going through second-class mail are delivered at the newspapers' own expense to outlying post offices where rail mail delivery has been discontinued. Another substantial stack of such mail is picked up at train stations and delivered by dealers, wholesalers and others, the only thing the Post Office doing with them being to carry them in a railway mail car.

Newspapers are probably the most efficient and profitable business the Post Office has. Nor will raising rates bring in any new revenue. Actually it will probably cut revenue because more newspapers will find other less expensive means of delivering their product. Newspaper mail has declined yearly since 1955 and Post Office revenue has gone down, despite rate increases. It is too bad the Post Office Department doesn't think now and then of service as well as higher rates.

The Retirement Of Walter Judd

Few members of the House of Representatives ever build a national following or can claim a national reputation. The House mirrors the nation and achieves it by having a variety of members, some educated, others dull; some interested in certain problems, others only interested in their own election.

Each represents a comparatively small area and a small part of the total population. The device for forming the House of Representatives was designed to bring these persons close to the people.

Dr. Walter Judd hails from Minnesota but his experience has been enormous. He has been a Protestant medical missionary in China, devoted to the Chinese people. The Communists imprisoned him, but he was repatriated by the Japanese.

Since returning to the United States, Dr. Judd has given up his medical practice and has devoted himself to politics. One of the country's most brilliant speakers, he has travelled over the land, telling the story of China, of the Communists and of the need for the United States to defend itself against a conspiracy of conquest.

His first-hand account of what the Communists have done in China has had no better reporter. He has been elected to the House of Representatives 10 times, serving for 20 years and the probability is that, with great effort, he could be elected again. His district has been reappointed in an outrageous manner with the object of eliminating Dr. Judd.

Of it Dr. Judd has said: "I could win in this new district, if I spent most of my time just running for office, but that would deny me the opportunity to do the kind of thing for which I entered political life. I left the medical profession for politics in order to work at ideas, both domestic and international, which I considered essential for a strong and sound America in a world of peace. Under this new situation, I must now leave politics in order to continue working for the same purposes and ideas."

Perhaps the politicians of the Minnesota Legislature do not appreciate that their state is honored by such a Representative as Walter Judd, whose reputation is international and whose standing in the Congress exceeds the size of his district or the function of his office.

Few men are prophets among their own people and it is likely that to his constituency Dr. Judd is just another Republican politician. In him, they have a profound thinker, a leader in the intellectual renaissance of this country, a person of such experience as few Americans have had. His departure from the House of Representatives will be a loss to the United States.

One of the weaknesses of our relations with the Far East is that since the 1930's, our government has eschewed counsel with those who have long lived in Far Eastern countries and who have been close to the peoples of those lands. "The Old China Hand," for instance, was regarded so unfavorably during the Roosevelt Administration that a wealth of experience was lost.

The small fry who were accepted as experts proved their worth by believing that the Chinese Communists were "Agrarian Reformers" as stupid a phrase as the description of Fidel Castro as a Democratic Revolutionary.

Dr. Walter Judd went into the Congress where he could not be ignored. He took to the lecture platform. He forced the truth about China into the open and his witnessing to the truth forced the liars and hypocrites to flee before him.

The medical missionary was, in my days in the Far East, a beloved figure, for he not only preached a doctrine of love and devotion but he healed the sick and brought comfort into families in despair and hopelessness.

I have known such missionaries living in outposts, without the comforts which we, in this country regard as so essential. I have seen them deliberately go into plague areas, among those suffering from smallpox and from cholera, to do their work of mercy.

If the Chinese people, enslaved by the Communists, driven by their leaders, corrupted in thought and spirit, no longer see their friends among them, they nevertheless have memories of them — of men and women who served because they loved humanity but who asked no return for themselves.

Dr. Walter Judd was such a man in China. He will not be driven out of public life, for wherever his voice will be raised, thousands will listen.

Harrisburg — In the aftermath of yesterday's primary election runoff there are some interesting phases of the campaigning just ended worthy of at least passing note.

For one thing the campaign could just as well be termed the "nameless campaign" for very rarely was the name of an opponent ever uttered!

In fact not once do we recall the name of either of Richard-son Dilworth's two Democratic gubernatorial opponents passing Mr. Dilworth's lips nor do we recall Republican gubernatorial candidate William W. Scranton mulling in public the name of opponent J. Collins McSparran.

This clamping of the teeth on such matters isn't anything new of course — in fact it's a stringent psychological hangover from yesteryear when an opponent was called anything (and everything) but his right name.

The thought of course is that

Dr. Nina Price was selected to receive the fourth "Golden Deeds Award" from East Stroudsburg Exchange Club.

A Phillipsburg, N.J., man walked nearly one-quarter mile to get assistance after his car crashed near Delaware Water Gap. He had a deep scalp laceration, broken left hand and a fractured skull.

Barrett Township School Board found they would need an additional teacher for the coming year. The finding was the result of the recent school census.

Stroudsburg High School defeated Lehigh 2-1. The game kept the hopes alive for Stroudsburg to win the league championship.

the less public mention of an opponent's handle the greater will be the ignorance of the voting public — unquestionably par for the course of political concept of "informed public."

So far as can be ascertained old political pro David Leo Lawrence never mentioned the name of his unsuccessful Republican gubernatorial opponent (one Arthur T. McGonigle, if we recall) in his campaign of 1958. Well, Mr. Lawrence made it and Mr. McGonigle didn't.

One of the more unique facets of the campaign just ended can be found in the fact that to all intents and purposes — if the mimeographed pooh-blah sheets tendered the press by the candidates can be accepted as any indication — is the unquestionable fact that the coming "fall" campaign began this spring!

Outside of the insistence by GOP Independent Mr. McSparran that his organization-backed opponent couldn't win against Democrats in the fall, the past primary was indeed a slugfest between Democrats and Republicans.

Even Mr. Lawrence got all huffed up about the thing when his Democratic administration was accused of having padded payrolls, running a sloppy operation, failure to provide adequate services, permitting the state's economy to revert to the Indians — and a host of similar bluffs that are a part and parcel of any campaign.

One of the more amusing aspects though of this pre-fall primary barrage was the reaction of Mr. Lawrence, who with gubernatorial jowls acquiesced as to how he "resented" such dashing and daring charges and implications.

That seemingly was sporty of his gubernatorial ribs — the obvious inference being that candidates shall not criticize!

It only requires a slight memory-stretching to recall a comparatively few brief years ago some of the fantastically wild yarns Pennsylvania donkey riders were then spinning about the long entrenched Republican regimes — over which, unfortunately — no one ever thought to get "incensed" about.

Aside from making the primary a general election campaign — an inter-party affair instead of an intra-party fuss — one of the odder facets came with the belated endorsement of Democratic organization candidate Richardson Dilworth the week before the primary by Philadelphia Democratic bigwig William J. Green, credited by many as the "kingmaker" for his swinging Pennsylvania behind the presidential candidacy of John F. Kennedy in the 1960 campaign.

In other words, in nearly every respect the primary campaign that formally ended yesterday ran in almost every vein but that of a primary!

The question might well be raised: hasn't the fall campaign been pretty well scrubbed? The answer is "no" — but a healthy start has been made!

Off The Record

Nice to see Mr. and Mrs. William Reaser back in town. The young couple and their offsprings returned recently from California.

It will take awhile but Bill will be back in the swing of things before long.

The area could not afford to lose the mold of people with the community spirit of the Reasers. California's loss is certainly our gain.

Did you know that Paul Vathis, the Associated Press photographer who won the Pulitzer for art work, was assigned to cover the disastrous floods in Stroudsburg regions in August, 1955.

One of his tales includes the time he was taken across a raging stream in a highpowered motorboat.

"You're holding that camera like a baby," a newsman shouted at him.

"If it goes I go," he said. And Vathis meant it.

Vathis is not exactly a foreigner to the territory, being born and raised in Mauch Chunk, now Jim Thorpe.

Ted Getz, the clothier of Stroudsburg, is looking like his old self again, now that summer- like weather is blessing the vicinity.

Ted, a constant talker if there was ever one, is running faster with the words. That always is a sure indication Theodore is physically in tip top shape.

Ed Mesko, the glass expert in East Stroudsburg, promises to break 80 this year. Long an advocate of golf, Ed has only hit the 70s once in his lifetime.

"After that I went back to normal, 81 to 90," Ed offered the other day.

Leonard Randolph, Governor Lawrence's assistant, was in town during the primary election. The former Daily Record staffer never looked better.

Randy enjoyed his sojourn up the Main Stems, renewing many of the acquaintances he fostered over the years while working for the local newspaper.

Symington Slashes U.S. Aid To India

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott

Washington — A virtually unknown massive military buildup by India is the inside reason the Senate Foreign Relations Committee unexpectedly slashed more than $200 million from foreign aid funds earmarked for that neutralist country.

While the U.S. has been pouring hundreds of millions in loans, credits, surplus foods and other aid into India to build up its industries, agriculture and standard of living, it has been spending immense sums to develop one of the largest military forces in the world.

In size, quality and modern equipment, India's army, and airforce are equal, if not superior, to those of Red China.

Approximately 20 per cent of India's budget is for military expenditures.

In 1957, they were $330 million. This year they have soared to $800 million out of a total budget of $4.7 billion.

During this five-year period, the U.S. has extended upwards of $2.5 billion in grants, credits and other aid to India. In the Administration's foreign aid bill now pending in Congress, $727 million is allocated for India. This is approximately one-seventh of the $4.9 billion proposed by President Kennedy.

It is also the figure unexpectedly axed by the Foreign Relations Committee on the motion of Senator Stuart Symington, D-Mo., vigorously supported by Senator Homer Capehart, Ind., a ranking Republican member.

The two veteran lawmakers cautiously noted that despite Premier Nehru's professions of peace and neutrality, India today has an —

Army of more than 600,000 excellently trained and equipped troops.

Airforce of more than 1,000 planes, a large proportion of them jets. Early this month it became known India is buying a considerable number of Russian MIG-21s, fighters comparable to this country's "century series" interceptors.

Navy of more than 100 warships, including a number of submarines.

Telling Off Rusk — While the Senate Committee's 8 to 7 vote cutting Indian aid funds by 25 per cent broke as a public surprise, it shouldn't have been to Secretary Dean Rusk.

At a previous closed-door meeting with this influential Committee, the State Department chief got a bluntly foreboding preview of what was in the wind. Senators Symington and Capehart minced no words in condemning more large-scale aid to India.

Both made it plain they distrust Nehru's pious professions of peace, and fear he will attack Pakistan as he did the Portuguese colony of Goa.

Throughout this extraordinary vicious on the defense care-baggage grilling, Rusk obviously avoided clashing with Symington and Capehart. Rusk acknowledged their contentions, but argued it is necessary to "help build India's economy."

"No one has testified yet," asserted Symington, "why we should spend additional hundreds of millions of dollars in India. Why should we increase our aid to $815 million this year—which is the real figure when you get down to it. That is just about the same amount Nehru is going to spend on his military forces."

"We are furnishing only economic aid to India," replied Rusk placatingly.

"Yes," retorted Symington, "but isn't it true our economic aid enables Nehru to spend these gigantic amounts on his military forces?"

"We cannot suppose he will substantially reduce his military establishment if we reduced our economic aid," argued Rusk.

"The fact remains," pointed out Symington, "that every time we increase economic aid to India, Nehru increases his military spending. Just look at the figures. In 1957, we gave him $330 million in economic aid, and that is the exact amount he spends on his military. Now we are planning to give him $815 million in economic aid, and he has increased his military budget to around $800 million."

"Our intent is to help build India's economy," said Rusk.

"That may be our intent," snapped Symington, "but the fact still remains that our economic aid is making it possible for Nehru to build up a military position far greater than most of our people have any idea. Very few Americans have the remotest concept of how large a military establishment India now has."

"His defense program is sizeable," admitted Rusk.

"Actually it is an 'offensive program' and not defense," said Symington. "Nehru has successfully exploited himself as a man of peace. But he is probably of the most aggressive persons in the world. Take his recent aggression in Goa, his threats to seize Kashmir, his belligerence to Pakistan. And Krishna Menon, his Defense Minister, is the mastermind behind it all. Menon has made a career of attacking the U.S. Now he and Nehru are buying MIG-21s from Russia. Does that strike you as a 'defense program'? It doesn't me."

"I would rather not discuss personalities," replied Rusk quietly. "The underlying objectives of our aid program are to keep India an independent country."

More Verbal Spanking — This brought a loud hoot from Senator Symington.

"That policy didn't help Goa," he pointed out. "And it isn't keeping Nehru and Menon from buying MIG-21s from Russia and threatening Pakistan and Kashmir."

"We protested India's action in Goa," contended Rusk.

"A lot of good that did," retorted Symington. "India has an army of 600,000, and an airforce of more than 1,000 planes, three times larger than any other airforce in that vital part of the world. Also the Indian navy has more than 1,000 warships."

"I believe those figures are correct," admitted Rusk.

"I am stressing them," declared Symington somberly. "The cause India is threatening Pakistan, and may soon attack that country. Pakistan is our ally and friend. I don't believe that can be said of India; certainly it is not our ally."

"We have made repeated efforts to try to solve the differences between India and Pakistan," said Rusk. "And we are still trying to bring that about."

"Nothing that has been said here convinces me it is in the best interest of the U.S. to give more large-scale economic aid to a country as aggressive as India," declared Senator Capehart.

"Nehru has refused to sit down and talk over differences with Pakistan. He is refusing to negotiate, and despite all his talk about being a man of peace, he used his military might to grab Goa."

"In light of this aggressive policy on the part of Nehru and Krishna Menon," asserted Symington, "it is beyond me how and why we should increase our aid to India. No one, including you, Mr. Secretary, has given us a single good reason why this should be done. I have urged Nehru to cut back his military spending?"

"Shaking his head, Rusk replied, "No."

"Then I believe the only way to bring that about is to reduce India's economic aid," asserted Symington. "And the place to start is right here in this Committee. The time is long overdue to stop helping those who either are not on our side, or are using us for their own aggressive ends."

To this thrust, Rusk made no reply. Several days later, the Committee followed Symington's lead and drastically slashed aid to India.

Foreign Flashes — Iran is betting "more than 20" F-104 jet fighters. President Kennedy agreed to extend this military aid to Iran during the Shah's recent visit to Washington. . . . Morocco's King Hassan has accepted an invitation to visit Premier Nehru. No date has yet been set for the trip. . . . President Nasser and Japan have agreed to establish air service between the two countries. This new route will connect Tokyo and Cairo beginning in the fall.

School Heads Of Wayne At Conference

NEWFOUNDLAND — Leland Cramer, principal of Southern Wayne Joint School, and Homer B. Ammerman, retired county superintendent, Honesdale, were the Wayne County administrators in attendance at the annual conference of the Pennsylvania Association of Chief School Administrators held at The Inn, Buck Hill Falls.

The Southern Wayne Joint School Band, conducted by John Strupewski, SWJS music supervisor, played a concert for the 300 school administrators assembled.

Mr. Ammerman received a certificate of merit from the organization, and the personal congratulations and best wishes of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, Dr. Charles H. Boehm. Mark Fisher, retired principal of the Pleasant Mount Schools, and Robert Wilson, principal of the Waymart Schools, were awarded certificates of merit in absentia. Mr. Wilson's certificate was for having served as a chief school administrator for 25 years.

Postmasters Note Mail Box Week

GREENTOWN — Postmasters Robert Krieger, Greentown; C. L. Beesacker, Newfoundland; and Estella Christian, South Sterling, this week announced that the Post Office Department has designated the week of May 21-26 as Mail Box Improvement Week, when rural patrons are encouraged to paint up and spruce up their mail boxes.

The names of the owners should be shown on the side of the box that is visible to the carrier as he approaches, or on the door if several boxes are grouped. The box number may be shown, but this is not mandatory.

The postmasters noted that improvements made by rural patrons last year during the campaign were greatly appreciated.

A 23-inch trout caught in the Wallenpaupack Creek by a Newfoundland fisherman is the largest reported to date.

Many Agents

Would Be Needed

WASHINGTON (A) — Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon said yesterday taxpayers would be harassed by a swarm of agents if he tried to collect all taxes due on dividends and interest without a withholding plan.

The secretary testified before the Senate Finance Committee in defense of the administration's withholding proposal. President Kennedy spoke out for the plan at his news conference Wednesday.

The committee had planned to close its hearings on the controversial tax revision bill Thursday but Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., said so many questions remained that he asked Dillon to return Friday.

Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, asked why the new taxpayer account numbers and automatic data processing equipment would not solve the problem of tax evasion.

Last Meet Of State E-L May 21 To 24

BUCK HILL — The last annual convention of the Evangelical Lutheran Ministerium of Pennsylvania will be held next week (May 21-24) at Buck Hill Falls Inn.

Delegates to the 215th convention of the Lutheran synod representing 543 congregations in eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware and 270,000 adult members will take action liquidating the 214-year-old synod and paving the way for establishment of a new one.

The change is necessitated by a vast reorganization of Lutheran synods throughout America as our Lutheran bodies merge into the three million-member Lutheran Church in America next month in Detroit.

Involved in the merger are the United Lutheran Church in America, of which the Ministerium of Pennsylvania was the oldest and largest synod, the Augustana Lutheran Church of Swedish background, the American Evangelical Lutheran Church of Danish background and the Finnish Lutheran Church (Suomi Synod).

The Ministerium of Pennsylvania was founded in 1748 in Philadelphia by six pastors and lay deputies from 11 congregations under the leadership of Henry Melchior Muhlenberg who had come from Germany in 1742 to serve (in Philadelphia, Trappe and New Hanover).

From the small beginnings of the Ministerium sprang Lutheran Synods in New York, Ohio, Maryland, Virginia, Western Pennsylvania and elsewhere. When the United Lutheran Church in America was organized in 1918, the Ministerium of Pennsylvania was referred to as the "mother synod" of the largest Lutheran body in America.

The new synod to be formally organized Oct. 5-6 in Allentown will be known as the Eastern Pennsylvania Synod.

Just Between Us—

By Bobby Westbrook

Election Day is not a day I take lightly. In the first place I am generally emotionally involved in the results. Politics, baseball, football or basketball games are no fun if you don't care who wins anyway.

More important than who wins, however, is the fact that I know that my vote is one more which has not been bought, and cannot be controlled and as such is to be reckoned with, whether it makes any difference in the ultimate results or not.

Consequently, I'm usually in a philosophic and sentimental mood on election day. Over the years, I've even built up a deep affection for the little old polling place and the people who staff it. It's sort of like a twice-a-year homecoming.

It wasn't always that way. I'll never forget the first time we voted in Smithfield. Under the cold, unblinking stare of unknown election officials, we definitely felt like intruders and guiltily examined our con-sciences to be sure we'd registered, notified the proper authorities of our change of address and reassured ourselves we had a right to be there.

It takes time to feel at home in a polling place, to recognize the judges of elections, the inspectors of elections, the observers and the partisan supporters. But once you do, the roots grow very deep. Much as I love to travel, I think I appreciate being rooted more.

Among the casualties of what we are now referring to in capital letters as The Fire were, not only the barbery hedge for which I held no great affection being intertwined with poison ivy vines, but also assorted shrubs of which I was very fond, including a dark red rose bush which was a legacy from Mrs. Stephens, the original owner.

From its blackened roots there are now springing up all manner of rose shoots. Maybe they'll bear nothing but thorns, but, like me, they're back where they belong.

Speaker Named For May Dinner Altar, Rosary

Rev. John R. Ferguson, priest-director of the Pre-Canis Conference in the Scranton area, will be the guest speaker at the annual May dinner of St. Matthew's Altar and Rosary Society on May 23 at the Fernwood in Bushkill, at 6:30 p.m.

Reservations must be returned by today to ticket chairman Mrs. Joseph Harrison or Mrs. Anthony Archer. Mrs. John Kulba is general chairman of the dinner.

Miss Marie Brown, program chairman, will introduce the speaker. A native of Scranton, he attended the University of Scranton, the University of Western Ontario and St. Peter's Seminary, London, Canada. He was ordained by the late Bishop William J. Hoyer in Dec. 1948.

He has served as assistant pastor at Pocono Catholic Missions, Mount Pocono; St. Mary's, Wilkes-Barre; and the Nativity of Our Lord, Scranton. Last year he was appointed chaplain of St. Joseph's Childrens and Maternity Hospital, Scranton.

Linda Ahnert Nominated For Honors

Miss Linda Jane Ahnert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ahnert, Jr., of The Fernwood at Bushkill, has been named a candidate for the National Honor Society at Rosarian Academy, West Palm Beach, where she is a junior.

Linda is a graduate of St. Matthew's Parochial School, East Stroudsburg. The National Honor Society is composed of students showing high principles of scholarship, character, leadership and service. At the end of her junior year, Miss Ahnert will receive the hood of the society, making her a member for life.

Stairway To Stars Theme Of Bangor Prom

Bangor — A spiral stairway in the center of the Bangor Area Joint High School gymnasium set the theme Friday night for the first annual Junior-Senior Prom.

Blue and white crepe paper formed the sky for the "Stairway to the Stars". Styrofoam centerpieces decorated with paper stars and angel hair held candles on individual tables. Pictures were taken against a dark blue backdrop studded with stars and a moon.

Bernie Parsons provided music with his eight-piece orchestra.

Chaperones included: Dr. and Mrs. Trevor Williams; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rockwell; Mr. and Mrs. Armon Williams; Mr. and Mrs. Millard Gleim; Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Wynne; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lantz; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Burrows; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Guida; Mr. and Mrs. Michael Schott; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rader; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Calle and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lutz.

Mrs. Rockwell is adviser to the senior class, Arnold Wynne is junior class adviser.

Committee chairmen for the prom were: decorating, Leo Reimer and Betty Goldsack; orchestra, Michael Tiff and Bill Lange; tickets, Margie Hamm and Quinzie Piliotti; chaperones, Marie Mollie and Brian LaBar and refreshments, Dennis Holland and Robert Werner.

Garden Club Birthday On Thursday

Mrs. Manuel Deus will speak on her trip to South America and display many of the articles she collected there at the meeting of the Monroe County Garden Club on Thursday afternoon at 2:15 at the YMCA.

It is the 35th anniversary meeting of the club and members are asked to bring in old photographs and other mementos of the club's early years.

Arrangements will be in the theme of Sunrocks, yellow flowers in a centerpiece arrangement with candles or as-you-like-it.

Mrs. Herman Crisman is chairman of the tea committee.

Smithfield Pupils Play For Parents

Smithfield School on Monday night was the setting for one of the best attended Parent-Teachers Assn. meetings of the year when parents had a chance to share in their children's accomplishments.

The program opened with a demonstration of the Experimental French Program inaugurated this year in a 15-minute-a-day program taught by Mrs. Margaret Heller, Carole Wolf conducted the demonstration in French with the fourth and fifth graders, speaking, singing and even dancing in French.

The school choruses took over with an Italian Folk song, in English, illustrated with batons and percussion; an Irish ballad; a lullaby from New Mexico by the girls chorus. The mixed chorus sang a Czech folk song, the German "Happy Wanderer."

The Fifth grade presented a Gypsy dance and the boys chorus sang "Shenandoah," chanty of homelike sailors, and "Drill Ye Tarriers". The whole chorus sang "Iceland's Castle" as a round and closed with "Land of Hope and Glory. The Chorus was directed by Mrs. Alma Sutton.

A flutophone band under the direction of Clement Weidmeyer played a brief concert.

The ban concert, augmented by pupils from "J. M. Hill" school, featured "Waltz Smooth", "Battleground of the Republic"; Mr. Woodcock featuring Terry Millard on the drums which also gave extra rhythm to "Grandfather's Clock" with Glenn Dotter and David Mills on the horns.

In "Clover Hills", John Ace, John Simms, and Ricky Michaels trumpeted solos. "The Marine's Hymn", "Chromatic Jump" and a rousing "Stars and Stripes Forever" concluded the program.

During an intermission, Mrs. Joseph Lyons, president of the PTA, conducted the election of officers: president, John Dietrich; vice president, Donald Brink; treasurer, Loren Batchelder; and secretary, Mrs. David Saussier.

THE WYCKOFF SHOPPER

One of the most magnificent features of the United States World Trade Fair at New York's Coliseum is the American Look Pavilion on the fourth floor. Here one may see handsomely crafted furniture, gloriously colored rugs, spectacular objects of art, and wonderful china and silver typical of life today in our nation. The wonder of it all is that there are so many styles in all of these things... so many combinations of color... so many ways to express one's self, that they seem never ending... and each item seems lovelier somehow than that which delighted your fancy a moment before. If this proves anything, I think, it is that our national attitude is one of youthful enthusiasm for the new, while our achievements are based upon mature wisdom and knowledge.

The splendor of all things American is further proven in a show, sponsored by Woolens and Worsteds of America, based upon the theme, "The Fashion is American Wool." Right now, of course, I am fashion-minded, as we head into the final few weeks prior to our annual Wyckoff-Hadassah Show, scheduled for Wednesday evening, June 13th at Tamiment-in-the-Poconos. Therefore, I was among the first to find a choice seat near the runway at the Coliseum show. I suppose I am not a particularly observing person, for at first I saw only a gentleman, sitting on the stairway leading to the long crimson-covered ramp draped in gold. I was attracted by a large map of the United States hanging high above his head—a beautiful map that would be a conversation piece on any wall, since each of the 50 States was depicted in woolen fabric. Some were solid flamboyant color; some, tartan plaid. Quite an idea, I thought, for any needlewoman to claim as her own if she wishes to make a prized decoration for her home.

Suddenly the quiet was broken by a loud and pleading "M-a-a-a." A pretty model was walking past, and as I glanced up she flashed a smile in the direction of the man, who smiled back in obvious appreciation of her charm. A few minutes later another model walked by and the same loud "M-a-a-a" issued forth from (I thought) the gentleman. It seemed to me this was a mighty silly way he had of attracting attention, when still a third model dashed over, knelt at his feet, and began caressing the whitest, fluffiest, baby lamb I have ever seen. It was a perfect dore of a lamb, from its little pink mouth to the big pink bow around its neck... and needless to say it stole the show completely away from all the beautiful gals and handsome men who paraded in such famous label apparel as that of Bobbie Brooks, Jonathan Logan, Lassie, Jr., Weatherbee, McGregor, to say nothing of creations made from Simplicity Patterns.

Bobbie Brooks coordinates in muted brown tones... Lassie coats in Fire Engine Red, and in navy and white houndstooth combined with a red velvet Cleopatra hat... McGregor jackets for men, with and without hoods; and in companion-wear for small boys... sheath business dresses that can be made elegant for evening with the addition of a cape-line jacket that slips over the head to fall just below the bustline in front but is long, zipper-closed, and graceful at the back... wools of solid color polka-dotted with circles of shiffl embroidery... very full coats half-belted at either front or back and, in many cases, lined with long-haired furs such as fox or raccoon... were among the many fashion delicacies that whetted my taste. Oh yes, I must also include the strikingly styled Weatherbee tweeds for rain or shine wear.

The trade show is something to see from front door to top floor, with 70 nations displaying their choicest wares proudly and temptingly. One can accumulate free pamphlets and brochures galore while making the rounds, plus odds-and-ends of information, such as the Japanese declaration that Japan is the second largest customer of the U.S. . . . that the Japanese buy far more from the United States than they sell this country . . . and that there is not a state in the union that does not benefit from Japanese trade. I even discovered that player pianos are not passe! In the American Look Pavilion I found an adorable little spinet by Pianolo, complete with rollers . . . I'd have loved playing it!

Of course, the biggest realization of all was that the Trade Fair is only a prelude of things to come RIGHT HERE AT WYCKOFF'S. "Papa" Wyckoff was on hand, checkbook in hand, and DON'T THINK HE DIDN'T ORDER! HE DID!

Local Cerebral Palsy March Plans Listed By Director

FINAL plans for United Cerebral Palsy's annual "53 Minute March" to be conducted May 22 in Monroe County were announced yesterday by Mrs. Seymour Pollan, Director.

To organize a massive county-wide campaign such as this requires a tremendous amount of effort on the part of the captains and the volunteer workers. Reports which have been turned over to me make me confident that we will have a most successful campaign," Mrs. Pollan stated.

"Response to our appeal for volunteer workers during the last week has been most gratifying. More than 150 residents answered our appeal, and each volunteer is being assigned to a neighborhood for our '53 Minute March' for May 22 at 7:00 p.m.," the director said. During the coming week collection and report kits will be mailed to each volunteer to aid her on the march. The tedious task of filling the kits and addressing them is now in progress and will be completed shortly.

Captains

The captains in Monroe County now include: Mrs. Frank Butler, East Stroudsburg, Ward 1; Mrs. Jerrold Fritz, E. Stroudsburg, Ward 2; Mrs. George Mosher, E. Stroudsburg, Ward 3; Mrs. Bentrix Steinmetz, E. Stroudsburg, Ward 6; Mrs. James Detrick, Mrs. Stanley Ace, and Mrs. Howard Popkin, Stroudsburg, Ward 2; Mrs. Samuel Everitt, Stroudsburg, Ward 3; Mrs. Marshall Feinsilber, Stroudsburg, Ward 5; Mrs. Irving Effross, Eastern Middle Stood Township; Mrs. John C. Mills, Brodheadsville and Gilbert, Mrs. Charles Miller, Lake Valhalla, Mrs. James Litts, Smithfield, Mrs. Robert Singer, Shawnee, Mrs. Charles T. LaBar, Middle Smithfield, Mrs. Paul Miller, Barrett, Mrs. Arthur Keiper, Mount Pocomo, Mrs. Herbert David, Southern Stroud, and Mrs. Ben Geshensky, Delaware Water Gap.

All residents of Monroe County will be given the opportunity to help the cerebral palsied through our "53 Minute March". During the March volunteers will distribute public education material at each home pointing up the tragic fact that cerebral palsy strikes every 53 minutes and that those handicapped by cerebral palsy are everyone's neighbors, dramatically illustrated by the 1962 theme of the March — "If She Lived Next Door, Would You Help?"

Hellertown Takes L-N Loop Lead

Bangor Trips Eastburg As Pen Argyl Loses To Wilson

HELLERTOWN High moved to the front of the Lehigh-Northampton League yesterday as both Pen Argyl and East Stroudsburg took it on the chin.

Hellertown downed Nazareth 5-1 as Pen Argyl lost to Wilson

LEHIGH-NORTHAMPTON LEAGUE (Northern Division) Standings
Hellertown	W. 1.
Pen Argyl	0-4
Wilson	4-0
East Stroudsburg	3-1
Nazareth	1-3

9-8 and Bangor rapped East Stroudsburg 4-3 with two runs in the last half of the seventh.

The win put the Trojans one full game ahead of second place Pen Argyl. East Stroudsburg fell two games off the pace. Wilson zoomed to a tie at second with Pen Argyl — the highest it has been all season.

East Stroudsburg held a 3-2 lead in the seventh as Bob Deiter cracked a long homer to right in the last half of the seventh.

PROS IN POCONO—Professional football is coming to the Poconos. Something new? Exactly! And this is only the start of the avalanche of programs planned for the arrival of the New York Titans as they make their base at the East Stroudsburg State College this summer. . . . The pro grid contests will be held on two Saturday nights, July 21 and 28.

Harry Wismer, owner of the Titans, forwarded his approval to Murray Goodman the other day in making the Titans arrival here a hooping success. . . . "We'll go along with anything the people of the Poconos desire," Wismer told his staff. . . . Final arrangements on the contests are to be made soon.

The Titans' twin bill is just the start of numerous activities involving the Poconos and the Titans. . . . A welcoming banquet is to be held July 16 when the Titans reach this area to start their summer training.

A "Miss Titan" contest—possibly with contestants from the hundreds of area resorts and hotels—is to be launched in the near future. . . . Because of the tremendous interest that is being created with the Titans, the planning committee has limited the sale of banquet tickets to 200.

The proposed major automobile racing center, the Pocono Mountains International Raceway two miles south of Blakeslee on Route 115, seems to have picked the right time to move forward with its plans to construct a first-class raceway in a part of the country where there is no major center for such a sports pastime.

True, there are some pretty good races at Trenton and some thrilling local contests at Nazareth and Dorney Park, but nowhere in the whole northeastern U. S. is there any track where championship racing of all categories are being held.

Whether Pennsylvania residents are aware of it or not, there is no disputing the fact that for the second straight year auto racing last year drew more spectators than any other sport in the U. S. except thoroughbred and trotting racing combined.

This information was revealed in the authoritative annual survey of American sports attendance by Triangle Publications, Inc., New York, publisher of five turf dailies.

Total attendance at auto races in 1961 was listed at 31,000,000, up 200,000 over the 1960 figure. (It was 25,000,000 in 1958).

Auto race attendance stands above the 29,024,203 attendance for major and minor baseball clubs combined.

It also ranks better than the combined attendance (25,664,161) at all football games played by 616 colleges and by clubs in both the American and National football leagues.

Where do people watch? Believe it or not, there are almost 4,000 racing plants around the country—most of them the result of post-war surge in the last 15 years. Do the major plants draw crowds? Indianapolis crowds are estimated at between 200,000 and 250,000; Darlington, S. C., attracts 80,000 to its Labor Day 500-mile stock car race; Daytona Beach, 75,000; Cumberland, Md., 62,000.

How many licensed competitors are there? The latest count was more than 28,000 excluding the thousands upon thousands of dragsters. Automobile racing is a billion-dollar industry according to Clarence Cagle, track manager at Indianapolis.

Maybe some of that business will soon be coming to the Poconos.

Decidedly Undergoes Final Workout Before Preakness

By JOHN CHANDLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP)—The rocks

were gone from Pimlico Race

Track Tuesday and Senior Horatio

Luro sent out his Kentucky Derby winner, Decidedly, for a final serious workout before the 86th

Preakness States Saturday.

Eleven 3-year-olds are expected to start in the 150,000-added event, and 10 of them were on hand for what promises to be one of the great contests in the famous Maryland classic inaugurated in 1873. Jaipur, the Gotham and Withers winner, arrives

Thursday from New York.

Luro, the dapper Argentine trainer, said "The track looks fine, everything is okay, no complaints" after Decidedly stepped seven-eighths of a mile easily in 1:28.45. Th smooth-striding gray son of Determine was only allowed to run the final quarter, for which he was timed in 23.45 seconds.

Fresh dirt was spread on the track Sunday to meet complaints that the track was dull and to full of sand from winter racing. Some stones were accidentally included, and Luro was forced to postpone Decidedly's workout 24 hours. He had threatened to keep the horse out of the race "unless the track is 100 per cent okay."

Robert Lehman's Prego, who won the $100,000 Flamingo last winter when Townsend B. Martin's Sunrise County was disqualified, was the latest arrival. Prego centerfield. The ball travelled about 350 feet and looked good enough for the win, but the Slaters tallied two in the last half after one was out.

Sherry Heard got a pinch hit single and Mark Schiavone replaced Heard as a runner. Pete Speer was safe on an error as Glenn Grigg was hit by a pitch. With the bases full, Jim Parsons lined a single through second to carry home the winning runs.

Outfit Slaters

The Cavaliers, who outfit the Slaters 6-4, also out "errored" them as tallied seven mis-

It was the second upset for the Slaters as they rapped league-leading Pen Argyl last Friday to aid in the re-shuffling of the loops standings. Bangor's first run resulted as the Cavaliers pulled three straight errors and a wild pitch.

In the fifth, with one out, Joe Pennett was safe on an error just before Pete Speer singled.

Pennett then rode home on a throwing error to the infield.

Deiter's Hits

The Cavs' Deiter also batted in a run in the fourth as he singled home Brian Farris.

Pen Argyl displayed one of its heaviest hitting attacks of the season in the Wilson loss.

Fred Sauerwine powdered two homers and Mike Manento one as the Green Knights banged out 12 hits. But, four errors and six walks led to the defeat.

Dick Kuster, who was charged with the loss, worked five innings and permitted all the Wilson hits (7). He was relieved by Terry McLean.

Robert Laubach, who relieved starter Rich Seibler got credit for the Wilson win. Seibler was tagged for nine hits and 7 runs in his 3-13 innings of work.

Summer League Opens Tuesday

COLONIAL summer mixed league will start next Tuesday, May 22 and Thursday, May 24th. A large number of bowlers have signed up for summer bowling at Colonial. Many more than the available openings on Tuesday and Thursday nights.

Another league will be started for the extra persons. However, it will have to be on Mondays at 7:30 p.m. Organizational meetings for a Monday evening mixed league at Colonial will be announced later, league officials said.

Mr. Manor 'Ace'

JOSEPH Barbaccio, of Haledon, N. J., shot a hole in one at Mountain Manor Golf Course, Marshalls Creek on the 90-yard first hole.

He finished with a 38.

Pocono Mts. Tallies 8th Straight Win

POCONO Mountains High rode to its eighth straight victory yesterday as they halted a pesky Pius X team 10-6 at Tannersville field.

Pocono Mt.'s Carl Beseker strode to his fourth win in as many outings. However, he received good support as the Cardinals cracked out 11 hits and garnered seven walks.

Pius X pulled to the lead in the first and added runs in the succeeding innings as the Pocono men compiled 7 errors during the early innings.

After settling down, the Cardinals won out in the fourth as they rallied for four runs.

Ralph Dunlap helped spark the Cards as he homered with one on in the fourth to start the scoring.

Dave Ruhlman walked just before Dunlap's homer to account for the first two runs. Norb Ryan continued the activities as he walked and came home on Beseker's double. John Ryan flew out and Pete Ask got a free pass just before A.J. Bittner rapped out a single to left.

'Close To Wall' Is All Minoso Recalls Of Crash

By IRWIN FRANK

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Outfielder Minnie Minoso, improved enough to sit on the edge of his bed Tuesday for the first time since he fractured his skull, says he can't remember the play in which he hurt himself.

The 39-year-old Cuban spoke in a faint voice. He closed his eyes often as though sleeping, and moved slowly and with great care. His right arm—he fractured his wrist in the fall—was in a cast. There were no bandages on his head. His wife, Edella, had a cot put in his room at Jewish Hos-

Dies At Polls
WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — A 48-year-old Nanticoke election worker died Tuesday of a heart attack at the polling place in Nanticoke City Hall.

Sheldon R. Jones was pronounced dead on arrival at Nanticoke State General Hospital by Dr. William Walker, resident physician.

Jones had been under a physician's care for some time.

Random Thoughts About All-State Chorus Festival

By Numa Snyder
Stroud Union Choral Director
NOW that the All-State Chorus festival is over, I've had time to think of some of the interesting people among our visitors I've met; of interesting conversations I either heard or of which I was a part; of interesting things I watched happen; of statements I would like to quote.

I guess this could be a series of human interest vignettes from an event which began as a very impersonal thing. After all, when you've looked at names of singers, checked them and double-checked them, they are just that—names. This becomes a personal thing only after you've met them and associated with them for two and one-half days.

I'm thinking of Wilhelmina Van Oredio, an alto from Holland, via Larnford High School. We placed her in the home of Bill and Betty Wyckoff, since daughter Gretchen is an exchange student in Holland. Betty was thrilled, but said, "I believe our mutual interest in Holland made Wilhelmina just a trifle homesick." Our Dutch visitor told us she would be returning to Holland on the same boat that brings Gretchen back to us.

And I was listening, with pride, to a fine up and coming bass fiddler in the person of our own Dor Whitaker, whose talents were used to great advantage in Saturday night's concert. Don also helped at the Stroud Union Chorus Concert, plays recordings during the Shawnee Choir and a little birdie told me he has been asked to help in the East Stroudsburg Choral Concert. Imagine! . . .

John Pyle and I realized the passing of years when we met soprano Cheryl Spaulding of Troy, daughter of our mutual friend and college classmate, Marion Greenough Spaulding, Mansfield State College, Class of '42 . . .

College Bound
It's always a real thrill to meet young people who are going into the music field. I'm sure there were more than two in All-State Chorus, but I know of John Harned of West Pittston and Robert Weck of Kingston who have been accepted at Oberlin Conservatory in Ohio (a very fine school) as organ majors. John, who spent Saturday afternoon practicing on the organ at Christ Episcopal Church, wants to go into church music. Robert, who played the organ accompaniment at the concert, is interested mainly in Music Education . . .

Then you should have seen The Daily Record's Rod MacLeod enjoying himself immensely in photographing Judy Hasbrouck of Gov. Mifflin High School, Shillington, and masterminding that wonderful picture page in Saturday's Record. "High Spots With . . ."

Laos Policies Are On Review

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration was said yesterday to be conducting a full-dress review of its policies toward Laos, ignited by the collapse of royal Laos army defenses under Communist attack.

High officials said the review is a sweeping one and includes the possibility of sending in some U.S. or Allied forces in the event other means fail to restore some stability in the strategic little South-east Asian kingdom.

The U.S. position is that it would still like to see the restoration of a cease-fire and the formation of a coalition neutral government under prince Souvanna Phoumi.

But the responsibility is now being weighed that the Communist forces would not agree to a restoration of the cease-fire but would continue their campaign to sweep over the remaining one-third of the country still held by the royal government.

The review ordered by President Kennedy was described as a more or less continuous consultation. The gloom in Washington heightened reports from Vietnam told of the rout of the royal Lao forces after the fall of Nam Tha last Sunday.

Q. I have been hearing about bonds issued by "municipal improvement districts." As I understand it, the interest paid on such bonds is not subject to Federal income tax. My broker says that many municipal improvement district bonds pay higher interest than most other "municipal bonds." But he can't explain why this is so or anything else about these improvement districts. Can you?

A. To begin with, you should understand that a municipal improvement district is a political subdivision of a state. A typical district would cover a town, or a county, or some part thereof. Usually, an improvement district is set up, under the laws of the state in which it is located, in some rural area. Bonds are issued and sold to the investing public. The money raised from the

Fifteen men of the church will serve as "serving waiters."

The program will include readings by Sallie Ferreebe, who also serves as M.C., soprano solos by Mrs. Jerrold Fritz, honors to mothers, and the presentation of Mrs. Maude Stem as the honored mother of this year's banquet. Mrs. Stem soon to reach her 60th birthday has been an active Sunday School teacher in the church school for more than 50 years and has held a number of positions of responsibility in the church program. At the present time she is the teacher of the Sunshine Class.

MANCHESTER, England, (AP)—Malcolm Patton, a 16-year-old actor — has been told he cannot see a movie in which he played a leading role.

The Manchester Watch Committee has ruled that anyone under 18 may not see the film.

The committee — an organization whose duties include censorship of motion pictures — feels the film is not suitable for teen-agers. The picture is entitled "A Kind of Loving."

Gossard's anSwer[®]

Here is Gossard's ANSWER in the new miracle fibre... LYCRA. This is a tummy-tucker that will really do the trick. Never before has there been such a girdle... one so light, almost weightless... yet it has such "holding power" that it gives you that sleek, slim look with such effortless ease. This is surely the ANSWER that you've been looking for.

Gossard spun this wonderful web of nylon, rayon and LYCRA spandex elastic... it seems almost magic the way it smooths you into the new shape-conscious fashions.

Comes in sizes 24 to 34... 13.50.
One each, peach, blue, and yellow, size 28... 13.50
